

KINDRED BALDWIN PARK

Bargaining Update

TELL YOUR EMPLOYER TO BARGAIN A FAIR CONTRACT NOW!

At our last negotiation session on September 19, 2017, Kindred still expressed its unwillingness to address workers' desires to make improvements to their current PTO and health insurance benefits.

Their only argument is that these benefits are standardized across all Kindred employees and highly unlikely to change. That's an unacceptable position for us and we demand that Kindred bargain in good faith.

It has become very apparent that Kindred expects things to remain "status quo" even though we now have a union and the legal right to bargain over our wages, benefits, and working conditions.

It is time we let our collective voices be heard and tell Kindred that they need to consider our proposals or we will be forced to escalate our efforts. We will be tabling in front of the hospital on September 28, 2017, at the following times:
